

214 MODERN VINTAGE, HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA

THE COMMONS, CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA

FURBISH STUDIO, RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

LUCULLUS, NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

YOUR GUIDE TO TOP SHOPS

*THE SOUTH'S BEST SOURCES FOR ANTIQUES, ARCHITECTURAL SALVAGE, ART,
FURNISHINGS, AND GARDEN GOODS*

ANTIQUES, FURNITURE, AND HOME ACCESSORIES

214 MODERN VINTAGE
High Point, North Carolina

Many of the design professionals who converge biannually on the High Point Market in North Carolina know to arrive early to visit 214 Modern Vintage. Housed in a 1920s storefront, the shop is filled with impeccable furniture, art, and decorative objects curated by its co-owners, Stephanie Schofield and Hilary Eklund, along with five partners from around the country, each with a specific area of expertise, such as period lighting or abstract art. 214modernvintage.com

ALEX RASKIN ANTIQUES

Savannah, Georgia

Walking through this suspended-in-time, stuffed-to-the-gills mansion is a bit like visiting Miss Havisham of Great Expectations, except that here the dusty tramp art and Biedermeier chairs are for sale. facebook.com/AlexRaskinAntiques

BUNGALOW CLASSIC Atlanta, Georgia

If you're in the market for absolutely anything new for your home, look no further than this welcoming spot, stocked with a wonderfully edited mix of furniture, lighting, accessories, and art. bungalowclassic.com

CIRCA WHO

West Palm Beach, Florida

Picture the best examples of vintage Palm Beach home and garden decor, and that's what you'll find here—bamboo-accented furniture and fun pieces in classic whites and neutrals, as well as bright accents in turquoise, gold, and green. circawho.com

THE CURIOUS ORANGE STORE Charlottesville, Virginia

Roderick Coles calls the twenty-first-century South a “migrational, cultural mixing bowl” and takes a similarly eclectic approach with his 2,400-square-foot treasure trove of good taste. Located in an industrial building on Charlottesville's western outskirts, the Curious Orange Store combines nineteenth-century chests with vibrant Italian modern lounge chairs and midcentury lighting. thecuriousorangestore.com

DARRYL CARTER Washington, D.C.

If Darryl Carter is a rock star of Southern interior design, his D.C. boutique is like a greatest hits album. Occupying a beautifully transformed nineteenth-century building in the hip Shaw neighborhood, his shop contains skillfully selected antiques and art, along with custom pieces of Carter's design, including dinnerware that he created with a local ceramist, made-to-order upholstered furniture, and private-label textiles. darrylcarter.com

FOUND

Houston, Texas

Found is full of everything from eighteenth- and nineteenth-century antiques to repurposed industrial pieces. Designers love the juxtaposition of, say, a vintage theater spotlight or a modern resin table against a faux bois garden bench or a gilt mirror. shop.foundforthehome.com

JOHN POPE ANTIQUES Charleston, South Carolina

You'll often find the proprietor himself in this antiques oasis. Pope brings his background in historic preservation to bear in supplying his King Street shop with tasteful, quality finds. johnpopeantiques.com

KENNY BALL ANTIQUES

Charlottesville, Virginia

Since 1985, discerning antiquers have known to count on Ball for an abundance of authentic English, French, and Italian pieces. kennyballantiques.com

LUCULLUS New Orleans, Louisiana

Patrick Dunne's French Quarter antiques store specializes in objets culinaires—ranging from fine crystal champagne flutes to silver Victorian wine coasters to mahogany dining tables. lucullusantiques.com

Left: Stacey VanBerkele; right: Sully Sullivan

Left: Lissa Gowals; right: Cedric Angeles

MALACHITE

New Orleans, Louisiana

Opened in 2012 by Melissa Miles Ruffy and Adrienne Casbarian, Malachite offers distinctive high-end furniture, art, and accessories. It's no surprise that it's become a haven for interior designers. malachitehome.com

THE OUTPOST

Middleburg, Virginia

The impeccable staging of antiques from all around the world makes shopping here feel as much like a journey as a destination. There's an abundance of fascinating artifacts, beautiful rugs and textiles, and elegant furniture. theoutpostmiddleburg.com

PIECES

Atlanta, Georgia

Lee Kleinhelter's sophisticated furniture and decor shop was founded in 2004 in the West Buckhead neighborhood, but non-Atlanta residents can scratch an itch for revived vintage furniture by shopping online, where inventory is arranged by product, color, and material. piecesinc.com

REVIVAL

Chattanooga, Tennessee

Elegant artwork, handmade furniture, and a knockout selection of lighting are just some of what you'll find in Rodney Simmons and Billy Woodall's shop, where making a personal purchase or finding the perfect luxurious gift is easy. revivalhome.com

WILDER

Nashville, Tennessee

Ivy and Josh Elrod have created a store in Germantown that singles out furniture, tableware, lighting, and mirrors as if they were museum objects. The former New Yorkers—Josh is a painter, actor, and drummer; Ivy is a dancer, writer, and actor—carry everything from wood-and-metal furniture by the Texan designers at Garza Marfa to sleek garden containers by Modernica. wilderlife.com

ART, HOUSEWARES, AND HOME ACCENTS

ANTFARM STUDIOS

Raleigh, North Carolina

Leave it to an assemblage of artists to see the potential in a network of crumbling warehouses long before anyone else. Founded in 1993 by a group of North Carolina State design school grads, this artists' collective is home to a rotating cast of painters, woodworkers, metalsmiths, and potters. Stop by the studios on the first Friday of the month during open hours or call ahead to arrange a visit. antfarmstudios.wordpress.com

BEVERLY BREMER SILVER SHOP

Atlanta, Georgia

Southerners love their sterling nearly as much as their stories, and this Atlanta destination has been the fine silver supplier of choice for more than forty years, with an assortment of julep cups, exquisite flasks, and holiday ornaments. The shop also offers engraving and polishing services. beverlybremer.com

THE COMMONS

Charleston, South Carolina

A peaceful gem tucked into

WE TOOK TO THE WOODS, GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA

a carriage house in a leafy courtyard off Charleston's bustling Broad Street, the Commons offers an encyclopedic array of American-made pieces for home and garden, from Southern-made brass utensils by Georgia's ME Speak Design to sleek lighting by Workstead to the in-house-designed Shelter glassware collection. the-commons.us

FURBISH STUDIO

Raleigh, North Carolina

Steered by her impeccable taste, interior designer Jamie Meares has made a name for herself by pairing unlikely patterns, bold colors, and mismatched genres. Meares's signature color-drenched aesthetic is on full display in her Warehouse District home-goods store, where, among many other items, vintage kilim rugs mingle with abstract Southern art and bamboo butler tray tables. furbishstudio.com

GREGG IRBY GALLERY

Atlanta, Georgia

"Our mission has always been about discovery," says Gregg Irby, whose Westside Atlanta gallery seeks out emerging artists, including such rising talents as Alabama native Kate Merritt Davis and Charlestonian Raven Roxanne Wilson. For Irby, the only thing more thrilling than discovering a new artist is pairing that artist's work with the right client. "Buy what you love," she says. "If it grabs you, it works." greggirbygallery.com

Tara Donne

SOUTHERN ACCENTS ARCHITECTURAL ANTIQUES, CULLMAN, ALABAMA

MADCAP COTTAGE

High Point, North Carolina

The designers Jason Oliver Nixon and John Loecke bring their exuberant sense of color and love of history and great design together inside this charming shop stocked with a diverse mix of amazing furniture finds, plus an impressive vintage needlepoint pillow collection. madcapcottage.com

SHOPSCAD

Savannah, Georgia

Charming block-printed stationery, greeting cards, gift wrap, and kitchen towels are just the start of the offerings from the student designers at Savannah College of Art and Design. There's art and apothecary items, too. shopscad.com

Graham Yelton

WE TOOK TO THE WOODS

Greenville, South Carolina

We Took to the Woods is as distinctive as its name—part home and gift store, part floral design studio, part seasonal design exhibit. Just a block off North Main Street, the Greenville shop offers warm tartan throws, crystal candlesticks, and vintage antler mounts, as well as the store's own line of scented candles. wetooktothewoods.com

ARCHITECTURAL SALVAGE

BLACK DOG SALVAGE

Roanoke, Virginia

Need a life-size statue of Genghis Khan for the parlor? Or an old-fashioned claw-foot tub? Black Dog's 40,000-square-foot warehouse and grounds are a trove of antique and upcycled decorative treasures—nineteenth-century light fixtures, old textile-factory carts turned into coffee tables, you name it. [blackdog salvage.com](http://blackdog salvage.com)

SOUTHERN ACCENTS ARCHITECTURAL ANTIQUES

Cullman, Alabama

This downtown storefront in tiny Cullman is not where bits and pieces of old homes and buildings come to be laid to rest. They come here to be reborn. Step inside and you're met by a row of reclaimed doors. Balusters stand near a staircase; bins and boxes overflow in a jumble of pulls, hinges, and hooks; stacks of tiles clink when the door closes hard. "Our mission is rescuing these things, giving them a second chance," says the owner, Garlan Gudger, Jr. antiques-architectural.com

GARDEN

THE ANTIQUE ROSE EMPORIUM

Brenham, Texas

Burly and bearded, Mike Shoup doesn't match the prim stereotype of a rose aficionado. Then again, the roses at his Antique Rose Emporium in Brenham don't match the perception of fussy ornamentals that require constant care. Shoup has collected hundreds of hardy "survivor" varieties—gorgeous roses he's found thriving in cemeteries and abandoned lots despite decades of neglect. antiqueroseemporium.com

CHARLESTON GARDEN WORKS

Charleston, South Carolina

The Charleston landscape architect Glen Gardner remembers the fruitless searches for carved-stone planters or cast-iron urns showing age and character. "I couldn't just run down to the local garden center," he says. So in 2015 he and Patrick Bradley started Charleston Garden Works, which collects high-quality outdoor antiques and offers one-of-a-kind antique statuary, planters, water features, and lighting fixtures. charlestongardenworks.com

FLORADISE ORCHIDS

Gordonsville, Virginia

Floradise Orchids, a shady hideaway alongside James Madison Highway in Gordonsville, is well worth seeking out. As soon as you walk into the warm thick air of the arched-roof greenhouse, and the vivid colors and exotic shapes of a thousand blooms surround you, you'll know this isn't your average roadside find. floradise.com

LEAF & PETAL

Birmingham, Alabama

What started out as a small neighborhood plant shop has grown to three locations around Birmingham under the tasteful eye of the owner, Lydia Pursell. In addition to a substantial selection of unique plants and well-matched planters to accompany them, you can find a few surprises on the shelves, including house-pickled okra and pepper jelly. leafnpetal.com ©